THE CLOSING EXERCISES OF

South Ky College Were Largely Attended.

BANQUET, TOASTS,

Music And Presentation of Diplomas.

The final exercises of the school year of 1906-7 of South Kentucky College were held Thursday night at the Ben L. Rash, Jr., Memorial Hall. The public ceremonies were presented in the chapel. These consisted of vocal and instrumental music, the salutatory and the valedictory, the awarding of diplomas and a short closing address on behalf of the faculty and trustees. The program was as follows:

1. Jaell.....Valse and Faust
Miss Harvey Amoss.
2. Salutatory.....Mr. Reeve Bell
3. Bartlett.....Canst Thou Forget?
Miss Mildred Salmon.
4. Mendelssohn.....Rondo Caspricioso
Miss Ila Murphey.
- 2nd piano Miss Gussie Kuykendall.
5. Chadwick.....Thou Art to Me Dear
Miss Nell Gray.
6. Valedictory.....Mr. Alvan Clark
7. Presentation of Diplomas.....
Prof. A. C. Kuykendall
8. A Final Word and Prayer.....
Rev. H. D. Smith

The exercises were very attractive and altogether creditable to the participants in them and to the institution. The young ladies played with skill and sang with delightful effect. The addresses were unusually clever and entertaining. Both Mr. Bell and Mr. Clark showed themselves to be already speakers of considerable power.

After the formal exercises a general reception was held in the chapel and halls where a banquet and reception were given by the class of the year in the parlors and dining room. Both of these functions were highly pleasing. Youth and beauty shed their united spell throughout the spacious apartments.

The dinner was presided over by that prince of such occasions, Prof. H. Clay Smith. He was in his happiest manner. Rev. H. D. Smith said "grace." Toasts were responded to by Messrs. Luther Robertson, Alvan Clark and Reeves Bell and Miss Lucy Starling. Mr. Robertson spoke of "Mysteries;" Mr. Clark of "Presidents;" Mr. Bell of "Alma Mater," and Miss Starling of "Cooks." All spoke with great satisfaction to their hearers.

A surprise of the banquet was the presentation at its close of an umbrella with silver and mother of pearl handed to Miss Starling as a token of appreciation of the class on account of her taste and kindness in arranging the feast of the hour. The banquet was concluded with the going around from lip to lip of a beautiful loving cup.

The banquet ended, a final half-hour of social intercourse of the class, and its guests was enjoyed.

This has been in many ways the most successful commencement in the history of the college. The ceremonies have been of a high order and they have commanded deep and extreme popular interest, not the smallest factor in the success of the season has been the sense of growth and of coming largeness which is more or less in the minds of friends of the college.

She has done such things of late financially and otherwise as is increasing her confidence in herself. Friends both home and elsewhere are dealing with her in a continually increasing generosity of spirit. She is feeling the breath of what she believes to be the dawn of a far better day than she has ever known.
